

WALL STREET'S NEAREST GOLF COURSE—Governor's Island sporty nine-hole affair, just five minutes from New York's most densely populated section. Fore! Around the barracks, through the polo field and across the moat of old Fort Jay, with the Goddess of Liberty looking on in discreet silence. Underwood.

CUNARD OFFICIAL TURNS STEWARD. C. E. Cotterell, as a member of the crew, assistant general manager of the Cunard Line, arrives on the Aquitania in the role of library steward—one of the many officials to volunteer during the stewards' strike in Liverpool. International.

OUR MOST POPULAR FILM HERO. You'll recognize Wallace Reid, scapped by flashlight in Chicago about to board the Century for New York. Mary Garden, a fellow passenger, was distressed over the auction sale of the Manhattan Opera House, but Wally couldn't even squeeze a crocodile tear. Underwood.

ANOTHER WASHINGTON HARDING. Miss Margaret Harding, daughter of W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, one of the most charming and accomplished members of the capital's younger social set, who is making an extended tour of the U. S. gathering financial data for her dad. Underwood.

HE PUT JERSEY CITY ON THE MAP. Popular Tex Rickard, the man who has engineered and promoted the coming world's championship heavyweight pugilistic "battle of the century" between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier. Tex has stopped raking in the shekels for ringside seats long enough to obligingly pose for our camera. Underwood.

The DRESDEN CHINA Shop

THE GIFT SUPREME

SINCE the "Porcelain Shepherdess" of Hans Andersen's fairy tale came to life and eloped with the china chimney-sweep, no ceramic statuettes have been more life-like and artistic than those made at the Meissen, Saxony, potteries, established in 1710, where the original Dresden figures were created to please a King.

The Dresden figures and service sets of today still represent the highest attainment in ceramic art.
